

My Easter Sunday

My Easter Sunday was a trip to Lego Land. It was lots of fun. My favorite ride was the Dragon Ride. The Dragon Ride Started in a castle. The castle had people fighting, a queen and a king eating, wizards making potions, and a dragon breathing smoking breath protecting treasures. Then came the fun part. It was a very fast roller coaster. There were lots of turns and bumps. The best part was that you only needed to wait for three minutes in line. There was also a ride that you just needed to wait for three minutes. On that ride, you pull yourself up with a partner. I did with my mom. The first time my mom and I bragged at my sister and my dad that we were taller then them. But the second time they bragged at us that they were taller than us. There were other fun rides too. You should say that I am a lucky ducky to go on every single ride that was open and go on my favorite ride (Dragon) FIVE times, and I am!
